Message from the House

Hall of the House of Representatives
Austin, Texas,
March 26, 1959.

Hon. Ben Ramsey, President of the Senate.

Sir: I am directed by the House to inform the Senate that the House has passed the following:

H. B. No. 18, A bill to be entitled "An Act providing for bonding State officers and employees; prescribing the terms and conditions of such bonds; providing for the payment of premiums; prescribing the powers and duties of the State Board of Insurance, State Auditor, the Attorney General, and other agencies of the State; defining terms; repealing all laws in conflict; and declaring an emergency."

Respectfully submitted,

DOROTHY HALLMAN,
Chief Clerk, House of Representatives

(Senator Martin in the Chair.)

Senate Concurrent Resolution 43

Senator Hardeman by unanimous consent offered the following resolution:

S. C. R. No. 43, Inviting the Honorable Lyndon B. Johnson to address a Joint Session of the Legislature on April 6, 1959, at 11:00 o'clock a.m.

Whereas, The citizens of Texas feel just pride in the representation of our great State in the Congress of the United States; and

Whereas, The leadership of the United States Senate has been entrusted into the capable hands of the Senior Senator from Texas, from which recognized position of ability, fairness and responsibility, Honorable Lyndon B. Johnson has made the voice of Texas heard in the councils of National and International affairs to the great good of mankind; and

Whereas, The patriotism and foresight of Senator Johnson has transcended partisan political activities, thereby assuring the full support by both major political parties of the President in the effort to preserve the free Nations of the world and, particularly, in the impending Berlin crisis; and

Whereas, The members of the Legislature of the State of Texas desire to be informed of the great events in world history now transpiring; and

Whereas, There exists today, no man in America with more accurate knowledge concerning National and International developments than this distinguished native son of Texas; and

Whereas, In recognition of the superb leadership and eminent qualifications demonstrated by the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, his vast experience of service to our country should be utilized for the benefit of the American people in a greater field of service; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of Texas, the House of Representatives concurring, That the Honorable Lyndon B. Johnson be invited to address a Joint Session of the Legislature at 11:00 a.m. o'clock on April 6, 1959, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted, under the Seal of the Senate to the Honorable Lyndon B. Johnson.

Senate Resolution 263

Senator Moffett offered the following resolution:

Whereas, The Year 1959 marks the 100th Anniversary of the beginning of the oil industry in America; and

Whereas, The beginning of the oil industry was in the State of Pennsylvania, but the said industry has since spread to many other states, and particularly has it flourished in the mid-continent area; and

Whereas, The highest degree of development of the said industry has occurred in Texas and Oklahoma where it has become in some respects the leading industry in each of these states; and

Whereas, The Texas-Oklahoma Fair and its predecessor, the Wichita County Fair, has for more than forty years recognized the outstanding importance of the oil industry to the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma areas; and

Whereas, Many exhibits at the said Texas-Oklahoma Fair have displayed the successful progress of the oil industry in this area; and

Whereas, It is the desire of the officials and supporters of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair to suitably recognize the 100th Anniversary of an industry which has risen to pre-eminent importance not only in the States of Texas and Oklahoma, but also in many other states; and

Whereas, The 1959 Texas-Oklahoma Fair desires to salute in a proper manner the 100th Anniversary of the founding of the oil industry; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the Fifty-sixth Legislature does hereby commend in the highest terms the said Texas-Oklahoma Fair in its effort to extend proper and suitable recognition to the oil industry upon its 100th Anniversary, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Dr. Gordon G. Clark and Honorable T. Leo Moore, President and Vice President, respectively, of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair, and also that a copy be sent to the newspapers in the immediate area of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair.
